Bad Weather Causes Sch. Jubilee To Bring Small Fare.

Capt. Iverson Says School Fish Have Not Yet Struck.

Sch. Jubilee, Capt. Peter A. Iverson, which arrived yesterday afternoon from a fresh fishing trip, caught her fare on the Peak and is the first craft to arrive from that codfishing ground this season.

The Jubilee brings a small fare, and Capt. Iverson reports the worst kind of weather, nothing but a succession of gales and heavy blows, which would drift the vessel off the spot and keep them busy working back to the fishing place.

When there were chances to set, but few fish were found, showing that the school of codfish generally looked for on this ground at this time or a little later, had not struck on as yet. Capt. Iverson reports seeing no ice.

WEEKLY FISH MARKET.

Trade shows quite a falling off this week but is still fair. Stocks are very light and prices of cured fish to the skippers is still advancing often reaching almost unheard of figures. During the week cured large Georges have touched $9 per quintal, large and medium dory handline cod (a lot of 350 quintals) brought $7.50 and $6.50 in open market. Medium Georges jumped to $6.75.

Frozen herring have advanced to $3.50 for Newfoundland goods and $3. for shores. There are but few on hand, not enough to fill orders. One cargo of 100,000 pounds arrived here from Eastport, Maine and Laprow, N. B. during the week. They are fine goods and the first brought here from there for several years.

Mackerel are still weak and some dealers have quite a few on hand.

Receipts are light, except halibut, and prices still rule high, there being little or nothing to the splitters.
